REDS SPEED DRIVE FOR ODESSA

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—Gen. Malinovsky's Third Ukrainian Army pushed across the south Russian steppes from captured Nikolaev toward the great Black sea port of Odessa today, while 300 miles to the northwest other Russian forces were reported within 40 miles of the Czechoslovakian frontier.

The Russians were advancing on Odessa along a curving 175-mile front. Further west in Bessarabia, a Soviet communique said, units of Marshal Konev's Second Ukrainian Army were within eight miles of the Odessa-Tiraspol-Iasi railroad—last principal escape artery.

Spearheads of Malinovsky's forces which captured Nikolaev at the mouth of the Bug already were reported across the Bug estuary, driving along the coastal roads that lead to Odessa, 75 miles to the west.

Other columns were plunging south from bridgeheads 60 to 80 miles upstream, where, the Russians said, Domanevka and 40 other towns and villages fell to Soviet arms. Domanevka is 77 miles north of Odessa.

Berlin asserted that Konev's army, stretched along the east bank of the Prut river boundary line of old Rumania, had crossed that stream to assault the rail junction city of Iasi.

Capture of Nikolaev, a combined land and sea operation, was announced yesterday by Premier Stalin. Held by the Germans for two and one-half years, it fell after some of the fiercest fighting of the present offensive.

Today the Russians were smashing down through approximately 9000 square miles of steppe country still held by the Germans in the area above Odessa, but there were few natural barriers to delay their drive to that port and the shores of the Black Sea.

Argentine Slur At U. S. Envoy

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—The New York Times and the Herald-Tribune in dispatches from Montevideo said today that Gen. Luis C. Perlinger, Argentina's minister of the interior, had violently attacked United States Ambassador Norman Armour—though not by name—in an off-the-record discussion of the international situation with a group of Argentine newspapermen.

The interior minister also was said to have assailed the war aims of the United States and Great Britain and to have predicted that all of the present belligerents would soon unite to fight Russia.

The Herald-Tribune's dispatch said Gen. Perlinger's remarks were "considered an invitation to Armour to leave the country and follows the line laid down by Argentina's nationalist and pro-Nazi press.

Yanks Again Rip Germany, France

LONDON, March 9 (AP)—American Flying Fortresses plunged deep into central Germany today and Liberators pounded the Pas-de-Calais coastal area of France in the campaign described officially as "aimed primarily against the Luftwaffe on the ground and in the air."

Fighter escorts accompanied the Forts into central Germany. Berlin asserted that violent air combats were being fought over northwestern Germany by midday.

How Coogan Glided Into Burma

By FRANK L. MARTIN

HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN AIR COMMANDO FORCE, the India-Burma border, March 26 (delayed) (AP)—Flight Officer Jackie Coogan of the American Air Commandos, first behind the Japanese lines in Burma, came back to his base today.

The former film star spent four days in Jap-occupied Burma on his mission, helping American engineers build a runway for transports.

"If you think the natives were surprised when our gliders landed, you should have seen them when we opened up the mouth of a glider and drove out a jeep," Coogan laughed. "Two of them must have thought I was a god because they followed me everywhere and that night even made me a bed out of banana leaves."

Coogan added: "I sure would like to hear from those British and Gurkha knife artists I took into Burma."

"They were so eager to get at the Japanese I almost got trampled in the rush when they ran out of the valley I put them down in. They're the toughest men I ever saw."

"When we got over the valley in the moonlight I went in fast and I thought we would never quit. I jumped out with some flare pots to light the way for the other gliders a few minutes behind me."

"I ran and ran, setting out the lights as I went. Every time I pressing hard northeast of Imphal and "our troops have taken up new positions," the southeast Asia command announced today.

The Japanese invasion column in the Ukhul area 32 miles northeast of Imphal in India is maintaining pressure despite "heavy casualties in these attacks," the communique said.

Allied fighters, including Warhawks and Mustangs, fought a running battle, one of the greatest in this theater, over northern Burma Monday with the escorted Japanese bombers, knocking down 11 bombers and 13 fighters and probably bagging six others.

The Japanese, apparently aiming at the Chabai and Ledo areas of upper Assam, were forced to turn back without dropping their bombs.

Four other Japanese aircraft trying to intercept Allied flights were destroyed the same day, and two more were knocked down Tuesday for a two-day bag of 30, the communique said.

The communique also reported Japanese activity in the hilly jungle country 50 miles northeast of Imphal, but Allied troops drove the enemy back in the Chin Hills farther to the south, where they inflicted casualties and captured valuable enemy equipment in successful operations on the Tiddim-Imphal road.

Allied forces were also holding their positions on the Tamu-Palei road leading to Lake Loktak, but the Japanese are stubbornly resisting attempts clear them from a small block on the upper part of the Tiddim-Imphal highway.

Stillwell's U. S.-trained Chinese troops who stormed the village of Hkawnglawyang in the upper Mogaung valley early in the week were reported attacking Japanese positions south of the Khawnglaw river and east of the only motorable road in that area.

Churchill Grim Calling For O.K. Vote

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—To the cheers of Commons, Prime Minister Churchill today demanded its support all down the line for his government's program and called for a vote of confidence, staking his war leadership on the single issue of an amendment to an education bill.

ALLIES PULL TROOPS FROM CASSINO HILLS

By LYNN HEINZERLING

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 29 (AP)—Indian Gurkha troops who had clung to Hangman's Hill, an exposed knob just below the peak of Monastery Hill overlooking Cassino, have been withdrawn.

At the same time Allied photographic interpreters reported bombers had cut all the rail lines from northern Italy to the German frontier area.

Hangman's Hill had been occupied by the Gurkhas for nearly two weeks. They could be fed and supplied only by air. Withdrawal of New Zealanders from Hill 202 on the slopes of Monastery Hill also was discussed.

Allied heavy guns laid down a barrage on German positions in the vicinity of the strongly defended Continental Hotel, smashing a German troop concentration forming up near the ruins of the hotel.

French troops also smashed another small assault on Hill 915, which they are holding.

Allied artillery scattered a German infantry formation taking positions for an attack three miles west of Cisterna in the beachhead below Rome. Anti-aircraft batteries downed four out of 25 air raiders and Spitfire patrols destroyed three more.

Taking up the challenge posed by a one-vote defeat last night, the grim-faced prime minister declined to distinguish between a domestic problem and the basic issue of the government's leadership.

The next sitting of Commons, he said, an amendment providing for equal pay for men and women teachers—written in over the government's objection—will be stricken out by the government and "this act of deletion will be regarded as a vote of confidence in the present administration."

BARES CONSEQUENCES

"If the government does not object, an adequate majority (supporting the deletion of the amendment) it will entail the usual constitutional consequences."

These are the resignation of the government and the formation of a new cabinet.

(British censorship does not permit correspondents to tell when Commons will meet next, but it may be tomorrow.)

To suggestions that the amendment in no way involved lack of confidence, Churchill declared:

"I cannot attempt to control the activities of members. I can merely offer them some suggestions as to the consequences which may attend their actions. Certainly we cannot go on to the present basis of a government which has been defeated, after the language used from this bench, and into the very great tasks that lie immediately in front of us."

INTERRUPTED BY CHEERS

He was interrupted often by cheers and once—when he declared "it really is impossible to distinguish between a vote on domestic policy and a vote on the general policy of the war in this country"—by some cries of "rub-bish."

The setback yesterday, overriding the opposition of Education Minister Harold Butler, was the first defeat of Churchill's government since it was formed four years ago.

Nazis Flooding Holland to Balk Invaders

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—The Germans have started flooding lowlands in the Netherlands, the Netherlands information bureau declared today, as part of a plan to combat the expected Allied invasion of Western Europe.

Moreover, except for one or two small towns, the island group known as South Holland and Zeeland Island have been evacuated preparatory to flooding, the bureau said.

Inundation was reported to have started south of Helder in the province of North Holland, in which Amsterdam is located. The flooding was said to be under way also in Beemster Polder—a drained area of about 8000 acres some 13 miles north of Amsterdam—and in extreme southwest Holland.

About 5 per cent of the Netherlands already is flooded, one Dutch official estimated.

Eden Assures U. S. Not Dictating to Britain

LONDON, March 29 (INS)—Foreign Secretary Eden was asked by Emmanuel Shinwell, Labor member, in Commons today, to make clear, so far as Europe is concerned, that London will not allow its policies to "be wholly dictated by the United States."

"There is absolutely no suggestion of that," Eden replied. "We work in absolute co-operation. Neither one is subordinate to the other."

Suspected Killer's 9th Bride Here

Even as he was the object of a nation-wide search as a suspect in the bizarre "Gardenia Murder" in Los Angeles last summer, Roger Lewis Gardner, 26, handsome six-foot Kentuckian of many aliases, came to Boston, wooed a well-to-do Needham widow and married her three months ago, the Federal Bureau of Investigation revealed today.

Seized early this morning by FBI agents in New York, Gardner was described as a suave impersonator who had cut a cross-country trail of "love and leave 'em" adventure, during which he victimized more than a score of women and married at least nine without obtaining divorces from any.

His Boston victim was the former Mrs. Anne Coppinger, 40, of Highland ave., Needham, widow of the late Edward Coppinger, World War I veteran and Needham town constable.

Shocked by the amazing record of crime and deception which government agents charge against Gardner, she was reluctant to discuss her acquaintance with him and declared she had instituted annulment proceedings. She was married to Gardner, who used the name "Graham Toman" at the time, on Dec. 21 last.

Lonergan Fails To Take Stand; Defense Rests

NEW YORK, March 29 (AP)—The defense of Wayne Lonergan, charged with first degree murder in the slaying of his heiress wife, Patricia, suddenly rested its case today at 11:14 a. m., after calling only three witnesses.

The tall, lanky RCAF aircraftman defendant was not called to the stand.

Edward V. Broderick's sudden move came after he had called to the witness stand Mario Gabelini, interior decorator, who escorted Mrs. Lonergan on a round of night clubs the night before the State contends she was slain, and Dr. Isidore Michel, the Lonergans' physician.

He had questioned Detective William Prendergast yesterday.

World Relief Bill Signed by President

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)

—President Roosevelt today signed the bill authorizing the United States participation in activities of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration to the extent of $1,335,000,000. Specific appropriation of the funds remains to be made by Congress.

On the marriage license application the bridegroom's name was entered as Graham Wyatt Toman, 35, with a residence in Connecticut ave., Washington.

His occupation was given as "attorney," his place of birth as Montclair, N. J.; his father's name Graham W. Toman and the mother's name Pauline Y. Le Comte Toman. The application stated this would be Toman's first marriage.

The bride's name was registered as Anna Margaret Coppinger (Jenks), aged 40, of 589 Highland ave., Needham. It was stated she was widowed and a clerk and this would be her second marriage.

Mrs. Coppinger gave her birthplace as Boston and said her father was Alexander Jenks and her mother Jeanne Reid Jenks.

State Battles Chaplin Move For Acquittal

LOS ANGELES, March 29 (AP)—Defense efforts to have the Charlie Chaplin Mann act case thrown out of federal court on a motion for directed acquittal met stubborn resistance today from the prosecution.

A motion for the directed verdict was made by the actor's attorney, Jerry Giesler, late yesterday after Chaplin's butler, lean and solemn Edward Chaney, testifying for the prosecution, had said that Chaplin had admitted within his hearing that he had engaged in intimacies both in New York and in Beverly Hills with red-haired Joan Berry.

Giesler did not deny that the alleged act had occurred in New York.

"For the purposes of our argument," he told the court, "you must assume that the act took place."

ARGUE ABOUT TRIP

But, he added, the relationship between Miss Berry, 24, and Chaplin, 30 years older, could have been pursued "undisturbed, indefinitely and anywhere," and did not necessitate a trip to New York or anywhere else.

He asserted the acts laid to Chaplin did not fall within the purview of the Mann Act, which forbids the transportation of a woman in interstate commerce for immoral purposes.

"In the interests of justice," he declared, "I urge that this case is not within the lines of common sense, and I sincerely feel that the evidence, when viewed in its true perspective, doesn't measure up to requirements."

Chaplin looked bored and crowsy while Giesler was presenting the argument. The actor leaned back in his chair, occasionally swiveling around and looking at the press row or the spectators.

DENIES $150,000 DEMAND

Earlier, Miss Berry vehemently denied, under Giesler's questioning, that she had demanded a $150,000 cash settlement from Chaplin on the ground that he purportedly was the father of her daughter, Carol Ann, now five months old.

If Federal Judge J. F. O'Connor denies the motion for a directed acquittal verdict, defense counsel will put on its first witness today. Giesler declined to say how many witnesses would be called, who would be the first, or whether Chaplin would take the stand.

Chaney, the Chaplin butler, was the final government witness.

3 Saved, Fireman Felled in Holyoke

HOLYOKE, March 29 (AP)—Three persons were rescued and a fireman was overcome by gas today during a two-alarm fire in the cellar of Hotel Monart on Main st.

The gassed fireman was John O'Brien.

Mrs. Florence Bignas, 60, a chambermaid, was helped down a ladder by firemen while others led two men to safety. All of the other 38 occupants of the hotel left unaided.

Plasma Gifts Fail To Save Baby Boy

DALLAS, March 29 (AP)—Billy Meers, 4-year-old victim of chronic nephritis whose case received nationwide attention in January, died today despite continuous plasma transfusions equivalent to two pints of blood daily.

He was too weak today to receive another transfusion.

A total of 352 pints was shown on his hospital record, this believed to be the largest amount ever prescribed for a victim of this disease.

Despite his daily quota of blood, Billy continued to lose his fight against the disease, for which physicians admit there yet is no known cure. He lapsed into a coma Monday.

From every state in the Union came donations of blood and plasma and offers of aid.

ment, domestic and international, was vigorously condemned.

"I am opposed to any centralization of super-government, which would direct the American Army and Navy what to do, or which would require us to give up any of our sovereignty," he said here at a press conference.

The governor of Ohio thus gave additional support to the international "declaration," adopted in September at the Mackinac Island Republican conference, and indicated the course he will pursue before the resolutions committee of the national convention of the party in Chicago, in June, on the question of the post-war foreign relations of the United States.

OPPOSES SUBSIDIES

Addressing a Republican meeting, Gov. Bricker dealt at length with the various immediate farm problems, so important to this great agricultural state.

He took sharp issue with the Roosevelt Administration's insistence on farm subsidies, declaring that agricultural legislation cannot be based on political expediency.

Gov. and Mrs. Bricker were met at the train by former Kansas Governor and former Senator Henry J. Allen, of Wichita, and other state and local leaders of the Republican party of the Sunflower State. Late Gov. and Mrs. Andrew F. Schoepel, of Kansas, called on the distinguished visitors at their hotel.

At his press conference, Gov. Bricker said there must be an association of governments in the post-war world, in which the United States, as a member, must deal "as a sovereign nation" with the other sovereign nations.

WOULD PREVENT WAR

"The member nations of the associations should be in constant consultation with each other concerning the problems of the world, and there must be a constantly developing will for peace."

"We simply can't stand by and permit war conditions to develop. And I don't know of anything we did in the years before the war to prevent the development of such conditions."

Kavieng, Four Other Jap Key Bases Bombed

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, March 29 (INS)—Ripped and torn by high explosive bombs, the important Kavieng, New Ireland, air-drome runways upon which Japanese commanders have based many of the remaining planes, lay useless today as the aftermath of the latest American onslaught.

Five of Nippon's key bastions in the Southwest Pacific were hit with a total of 292 tons of bombs during the newest sweeps which struck at air-dromes, bridges and communication facilities over a wide area.

The raiders struck at Kavieng, Rabaul, Wewak, Hansa Bay and Bougainville, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced, in continuation of their campaign to whittle down the enemy's available strength in this theater.

F. D. 'Feeling Fine' Despite Bronchitis

By DOUGLAS A. CORNELL

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt has bronchitis but he says he feels fine otherwise. Affirming the diagnosis with frequent coughs, Mr. Roosevelt told reporters late yesterday he had had the ailment for two or three weeks. But he said it wasn't serious and there was no cause for alarm or headlines.

After all, he said, only one case of bronchitis out of about 48,500 develops into pneumonia.

The President said he had just returned from an X-ray examination at the Naval Medical Center in a Washington suburb. Vice-Admiral Ross T. McIntire, his personal physician, said he had taken his No. 1 patient to the hospital for completion of a thorough, annual physical checkup, which had been interrupted by Mr. Roosevelt's current illness.

"In about two days, when I've seen all the reports, I'll be able to tell you about his physical condition," McIntire said. "But he is feeling a great deal better. He has a little irritation of the bronchial tree, following a cold which extended downward. Usually, you know, the President doesn't get a cough."

Most of the Chief Executive's colds have been in the head. It was to a head cold that his absence from his office nearly all last week was attributed by White House officials. Throughout the week Mr. Roosevelt had maintained a light schedule, without seeing any visitors, coming to his office Friday for a single appointment and a press-radio conference.

The Chief Executive seemed to be in buoyant spirits at his news conference yesterday and his color appeared better than it had on Friday.

Twice in recent months Mr. Roosevelt has been ill with influenza. The first attack occurred last fall. The second and more severe came shortly after his return from war councils in Cairo and Teheran and lasted through a good part of January.

PATTERSON WANTS 4-F'S IN INDUSTRY

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)

—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson told the House military committee today the time had arrived for 3,500,000 4-F's between the ages of 18 and 37 to be assigned to essential industry or to be inducted into the Army in labor battalions.

"We face an actual danger," Patterson said.

One method to utilize the 4-F's, he explained, would be by enactment of national service legislation applicable to men between 18 and 37 who have been classified as physically disqualified to perform military service. He said assignment of such men to essential activities could be under control of a director of national service.

"Another method would be by extension of the present selective service mechanism," he said. "The 4-F's in war activity or other essential activity would be given occupational deferments and would remain as before."

"The 4-F's not in war activity or other essential activity and found by the local boards to be qualified for such activity would be inducted and placed in the enlisted reserve."

New Deal Hails Oklahoma

MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 29

(AP)—Democrats laid claim today to a nationally significant triumph in Oklahoma's special congressional election. Republicans blamed the New Deal machine, minimized the results of yesterday's balloting and predicted it'll be different in November.

With only 19 of the eight-county district's 331 precincts still unreported today, and those sparsely populated, Democrat W. G. Stigler led E. O. Clark, Republican, 21,405 to 17,678 votes.

As politicians tried to appraise the result—looking toward what Oklahoma and other normally Democratic border states may do in November—these were the immediate developments:

1—The victory had given the Democrats 217 seats in the House of Representatives against 210 for the Republicans, 4 for minor parties, 4 vacancies.

2—The Democrats had recorded their third triumph in 11 special congressional elections since 1942—against 8 for the Republicans.

Parties on Dodge's Yacht Told in Court

NEW YORK, March 29—Further testimony concerning the extramarital activities of Maj. Horace E. Dodge, millionaire playboy, are expected to be revealed today in Supreme Court, where it has already been testified that his wife, Martha "Mickey" Devine Dodge, suing him for divorce, surprised him and a girl friend aboard his palatial yacht.

The story of the hairbread escape of a girl identified as Sylvia Hofstadter as Mrs. Dodge came toward the yacht in a launch were revealed by Capt. Shannon, master of the yacht.

"Mr. Dodge was already on board, completely nude except for a blue robe he was wearing," Capt. Shannon recounted.

"Sylvia was brought over by a launch. Mr. Dodge was already in the salon waiting for her. Then they went to the bar which he had on board and I left them there."

"After they had a few drinks, Mr. Dodge came to me and said, 'Mike you keep watch. I want nobody on the boat.'"

Capt. Shannon stood watch with powerful field glasses and about 6:30 the same day, saw Mrs. Dodge walk toward the place the launch was moored.

Capt. Shannon then related how Sylvia made a hairbread escape, show he put her in a launch and held it hidden on the port side, while Mrs. Dodge was piped on board on the starboard.

Mrs. Dodge, in her divorce suit, has named seven correspondents and suggested that her husband's acts of unfaithfulness "may well run into the hundreds." She asks $90,000 counsel fees from the motor heir, who was retired to inactive service from the Army last November.

Coast Guard Officer Guilty in Girl Killing

NEW YORK, March 29 (INS)—Coast Guard Lieut. Adam Rother was convicted early today of murder in the second degree in the slaying of his sweetheart, Rita Costello, 27, in Staten Island last July.

Eire Sees F. D. Sure of Election

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, March 29 (AP)—The Irish Times of Dublin, in an editorial on the U. S. presidential election, says:

"Pres. Roosevelt's administration seems to be reasonably confident of Democratic victory. Otherwise it hardly would have risked an affront of Roman Catholic opinion by bombardment of Monte Cassino (abbey in Italy), to say nothing of the recent note to Eire, which cannot but have had an effect on the highly organized and politically vital Irish vote."

In its recent note to Eire the United States asked Prime Minister de Valera to oust Japanese and German diplomatic offices.

Quiz Youth, 20, In Girl Killing

DETROIT, March 29 (AP)—City and county detectives today questioned a 20-year-old war worker as they sought to trace the movements of Joyce Raulston, 14, from the time she left home Friday morning until she died from stab wounds yesterday.

Russell Gregory, chief of county detectives, said the youth admitted taking the girl to a trailer camp just outside Detroit Saturday and Sunday nights, but denied that he had seen her after leaving the camp at midnight Sunday.

The girl's battered body was found yesterday morning on a city dump, about a half mile from the west-side trailer camp. Parts of her clothing were scattered nearby.

All Frozen Vegetables, Fruit to Be Unrationed

By OVID A. MARTIN

Associated Press Farm Expert

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—The government is expected to remove all frozen fruits and vegetables from the ration list soon and to continue present ration values on meats during April.

The action on frozen commodities is designed to clear crowded cold storage facilities for this year's production.

Point values on many beef cuts and most pork items were reduced this month to relieve freezer space filled to near capacity by record slaughtering of January and February.

Because meat stocks have not been materially reduced, the March values will be continued through April, authoritative sources at the War Food Administration said.

Frozen fruits which may be made ration free include blackberries, blueberries, cherries, logan berries, raspberries, strawberries and some others. Frozen fruits which now do not require points include apples, applesauce and rhubarb.

BUTTER RULE STANDS

Frozen vegetables which are expected to be taken off the ration list include lima beans, sweet corn and green peas. Most other frozen vegetables were removed from the list this month.

The present 16-point value for butter is expected to be continued for another month despite the fact that production, following the normal seasonal pattern, is increasing.

On March 1 the nation's cold storage and cooler space was 92 per cent occupied, as compared with 73 per cent a year ago. Stocks of meat were at a record level. So were frozen fruits and vegetables for this season of the year.

WFA officials said it is necessary to get some of this food moving into consumption channels so that room might be provided for butter, eggs and other perishable commodities soon to be coming into peak production.

MEAT RATIONING YEAR OLD

Meat rationing entered its second year today with civilian supplies still sufficient to maintain the nation's health standards but with little possibility the program can be suspended this year.

It was March 29, 1943, that American housewives began giving up ration points for meats, butter, shortening, cheese and other products in the Office of Price Administration's red stamp plan.

OPA Administrator Bowles commented:

"Odd as it may seem, total civilian consumption of meat during the first year of rationing was at one of the highest levels in the country's history. The nation's farmers produced during 1943 almost 23,000,000,000 pounds of meat, a record amount."

Of the total output, Bowles reported, about 6,000,000,000 pounds helped feed American military personnel and fighting men of the Allies. Some 17,000,000,000 pounds found its way to civilian tables.

"But even with these large supplies, rationing was necessary because of the tremendous increase in civilian buying power," Bowles said.

The War Food Administration estimates there will be slightly more meat this year than last. WFA predicted a total production of 25,000,000,000 pounds for 1944, or about 132 pounds for each civilian, one pound more per person than was available in 1943.

Allied Planes Drop 24 Japs in Jungles

NEW DELHI, March 29 (AP)—Allied fighter planes intercepted a force of escorted Japanese bombers Monday and destroyed 24 of the enemy aircraft in a running battle extending for many miles over the jungles of North Burma, Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters announced today.

LOVE'S LIE BRINGS TWO SUICIDES—Ruth Marion White, 23, didn't know Karl A. Klint, 26, both of Brooklyn, was married when she eloped with him to Maryland 10 days ago . . . but on their return she learned he had a wife and child. Facing a bleak future apart, the couple borrowed an auto . . . parked out on a Long Island road, and died like this amid exhaust fumes.

Champ Dad

HOUSTON, Tex., March 29 (AP)—Applying for a group insurance policy at the Brown Shipbuilding Co. here, Ira Knapp disclosed he was the father of 30 children, 19 of whom are alive.

There were 18 boys and 12 girls, he said.

He has six sons in the Army. Four married sons are now classified 1-A. His oldest child is 39 and the youngest is 3. He has been married three times and has 21 grandchildren.

An ordained minister turned war-worker, Knapp is in his 50's.

Gloucester Gets Back 4 Trawlers

WASHINGTON, March 29 (AP)—Four trawlers are being decommissioned by the Navy and returned to their owners to rejoin the Gloucester, Mass., fishing fleet, the Office of the Co-ordinator of Fisheries said.

The vessels, expected to add an average of about 3,000,000 pounds each per year to the Gloucester production, are the Babe Sears, 101 tons, Pioneer Vessel Corp.; the Magellan, 78 tons, Joseph E. Rose; the Edith L. Boudreau, 89 tons, Union Fisheries Co. and the Leretha, 99 tons, whose owner was listed as merely "Trawler Leretha."

Congressman Fined In Gambling Case

MIAMI, Fla., March 29 (AP)—Congressman Pat Cannon of Florida was fined $10 and costs today on a charge of disorderly conduct by being in a gambling house, and immediately said he would ask a new trial.

The portly Democrat told City Judge Cecil C. Curry he believed there was "political significance" in his arrest. But Curry rejected the argument and gave Cannon choice of the fine or six days in jail.

Rail Lines Use Jeeps

LONDON, March 29 (AP)—The American jeep has been adapted by the British for railway work. Equipped with flanged wheels, the jeep is able to speed on rails at 42 miles per hour.

2 Identify Gem Theft Suspect

William L. Murphy said in the police headquarters lineup today the four $100 bills he had when arrested had been won gambling—but then two jewelers identified him as having been in their shops just before rings vanished from trays.

Murphy, police said, was released in January from the federal health hospital for narcotics in Kentucky after serving a year and a day.

Murphy was identified by Misa Justine Dumouchol, of the Sharfman Jewelry Co., Main st., Worcester, as a man who was in the store, pricing rings, just before two trays of rings, valued at $2500, vanished.

John Granger, who conducts the Robert E. Johnson Co. jewelry shop in Main st., Waltham, identified Murphy as a prospective customer who was in that store Saturday, with $2000 worth of rings missing after he departed.

$86,400 SUIT—Mrs. Evelyn Howard, 21, whose husband lost his life with nine others when the Liberty ship on which he worked broke in half in Alaskan waters, has filed suit in Washington against the Maritime Commission for $86,400, charging the ship was inherently unseaworthy.

Vets' Bill Blocked Until After Easter

By FRANK REILLY
Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Although it has been passed without a single dissenting vote by the Senate and the country is clamoring for action, Cong. John D. Rankin progress of the "G-I bill of rights" by insisting that it be carefully studied in the House of Representatives.

As chairman of the House committee on veterans' legislation Rankin asserted his group would finish their consideration of the omnibus bill by tonight, but that the chances were it would not be and when she had met the suave Kentuckian.

Mrs. Coppinger is one of her community's most respected women, now a clerk in the Needham Town Hall and the mother of a 21-year-old son, William, who is in the Army. She also has a daughter, Ruth, 20.

The Justice Department in Washington declared that Gardner had been sought since July in connection with the brutal beating of Mrs. Ora Murray, 42, whose nude, mutilated body was found sprawled in a lovers' lane flower bed on a Los Angeles golf course.

Under her breast was found a crushed gardenia, which gave the murder mystery its name.

Apprehended in a fashionable mid-town New York apartment, Gardner is held at present on a technical charge of impersonating federal officers.

The Justice Department announcement said that Gardner, a resident of Lexington, Ky., had passed himself off at various times as an FBI man, OPA investigator, War Department agent and federal attorney.

The Los Angeles slaying occurred last July 27. Mrs. Murray's nude body was found in a bed of red ice plant bordering the parking lot at the exclusive Fox Hills golf course in Los Angeles. Her brilliant print dress was wrapped around-wide about her body.

Los Angeles police later learned Mrs. Murray had been with a man identified as "Paul" before she was found slain.

Detectives found out that this man also was known as Grant Wyatt Terry, under federal investigation for posing as an attorney for the War Department's lands division.

The FBI disclosed that a thumbprint of Terry's on a driver's license application matched that of Gardner in the FBI files and put sleuths on his trail.

ARGUE FOR BILL

Prominent officers of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, leading in the fight for prompt passage of the measure, appeared before Rankin's committee this morning to plead for the bill's adoption.

During the Easter recess Rankin urged every member of Congress to visit veterans' hospitals in their home section, and to determine conditions and see what measures for betterment might be included in the bill.

The bill in its present form, Rankin said, makes no provisions to care for boys from farms, emphasis being upon those employed in labor industries.

"This bill needs some provisions to take care of the boys from the farms," Cong. Rankin declared. "We hear all about the labor interests in the bill, but nothing about the unorganized people who feed the nation in time of peace and fights its battles in time of war."

CALLS IT "ONE-SIDED"

"I am not going to put in such one-sided legislation,"

At the committee conference yesterday, a witness was Millard W. Rice, national service director for the Disabled American Veterans. Rice told the committee his organization was primarily interested in disabled veterans, and that the bill appeared to apply primarily to able-bodied veterans.

Rice said the disabled veterans have no objection to the education of the able-bodied, but not at the expense of the care of the disabled.

Red Cross Nets $11,300 on Paper

When Boston Salvage Dir. George G. Hyland turns a $2300 check over to the Red Cross this week, it will raise to $11,300 the total amount that organization has received as the result of waste paper and tin collections in Boston during the past two months.

At the same time, suburban cities and towns are continuing their regular collections. One New England paper mill has been forced into idleness owing to the shortage, salvage officials learned.

From Washington came word that Cong. Calvin D. Johnson of Illinois intends to introduce a joint congressional resolution urging states to pass emergency laws against destroying waste paper.

Waste paper and tin collections will take place tomorrow and Friday in Belmont; Milton, Friday; Needham, tomorrow and Friday; Holbrook and Dover, Saturday; Sharon and Stoneham, Sunday.

Boston Face-Lifting Cleanup Drive Sped

The face-lifting being given Dame Boston over a two-week period is in full swing today, with hundreds aiding voluntarily and 381 other under threat of being haled into court if they fail to do so.

Inspectors are today making the rounds of homes and lots where the owners were given 24 hours to clean up their property or face prosecution, and checking names of those who failed to comply.

According to Dr. G. Lynde Gately, city health director, 150 warning notices were served in the downtown area, 100 in Roxbury, 85 in South Boston and lower Dorchester, and 46 in the Codman sq. section of Dorchester.

In many sections, civic groups have come to the aid of the cleanup drive, sponsored by Mayor Tobin, and are conducting campaigns in their neighborhoods to put them in the best possible shape.

New waste bins, especially constructed for the drive, will soon

PUBLIC ASKED TO ATTEND ORATORY TEST

The public is invited to hear orations of Boston's star student speakers at the elimination competitions of the John Paul Jones oratorical contest Friday at Faneuil Hall.

There will be two sessions, one at 2 p. m. for the high school finalists, and one at 8 p. m. at which college entrants will deliver their orations.

A 30-minute musical program will usher in each session, and both are open to the general public without charge.

Meanwhile, hundreds of Boston parochial and public high school and college students are preparing to root for representatives of their schools. Among the recent silver-tongued students entered are James Thomas Madden, Boston

Dorothy Johnson Trade High School junior; Ida Ameno, of Brandeis Vocational High School and Selma Brick, of Simmons College.

Young Madden, 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Madden, of Martin st., West Roxbury, and is a graduate of the Robert Gould Shaw Grammar School.

Ida Ameno, 16, a Brandeis Vocational High junior, has the backing of her three brothers and one sister, besides her schoolmates. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ameno, of Endicott st., North End.

Miss Brick is 19 years old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Brick of Chubbuck st., Quincy. She was president of the debating Ida Ameno James Madden society at Quincy High School, and won a scholarship at Simmons.

Sponsored by the Boston Daily Record-American and Sunday Advertiser, the contest offers $20,000 in national prizes, offered by the Hearst newspapers.

First place winners in Boston preliminaries will receive $100 bonds, second place winners, $50 bonds, and four additional $25 awards are offered other stellar speakers.

School Board Asks Safe Rome

A resolution asking the President to avert the bombing of Rome was today forwarded to Washington by the Boston School Committee, following its unanimous adoption by that body.

Introduced by Committeeman Michael J. Ward, the resolution follows:

Whereas, Rome, the Eternal City, symbol of Christianity, is now in imminent danger of destruction, and

Whereas, Rome, city of churches, has through the centuries become the storehouse of the art treasures of the civilized world, and

Whereas, Rome, with neutral Vatican City, has a large civilian population, many of whom are non-combatant women and children,

Be it resolved, That the Boston school committee, speaking for the children of the Boston public schools who have been taught in their art, history, language and government classes, an appreciation of this city, Rome, as a symbol of our progress in civilization,

Respectfully petition the President of the United States do give earnest consideration of the plea of His Holiness Pope Pius XII and the reverend members of the Catholic hierarchy in the United States, that Rome not be bombed, and

Be it resolved, That the Boston school committee respectfully request the President of the United States to use the good offices of the Swiss or other neutral diplomatic sources to secure the evacuation from Rome of all troops, military installations and supplies, and

Be it further resolved, That the President of the United States instruct our own brilliant American generals to devise a way for declaring Rome an open city.

In submitting this petition on behalf of the school children of the City of Boston, the Boston School Committee is not unmindful of the many problems that the President of the United States has to bear during this critical war period and the Boston School Committee wishes to express its confidence that the President of the United States will do his utmost to avert the unnecessary destruction of the City of Rome and its treasures, and to spare the non-combatant civilian population untold sorrow and grief. The destruction of Rome would be a setback for all humanity.

'Pretty Little Parlor' Acting Honors Go to Stella Adler

By PEGGY DOYLE

Stella Adler, who hasn't been seen in Boston since "The Gold Eagle Guy," had a field-day for herself last night in the role of Clotilde, minor Regina Giddens and major scene-stealer of "Pretty Little Parlor," which opened last night at the Wilbur.

Clairborne Foster's not too provocatively titled new play puts a human spider under the microscope and lets you see what makes her spin. Her vixen... if not her play... is oddly fascinating. She is a composite of charm and can-canery, adroitly realized by Miss Adler.

Miss Foster, latest Broadway actress to take to the typewriter and an intent fight-nighter at the Wilbur opening, could not have been other than pleased with Miss Adler's artful vivisection of a shallow, vain, designing female whose beauty is no deeper than her epidermis. Their mutual talents have given the theater an arresting parlor trickster if not a broad-gauge hellion such as playwright Lillian Emerson could and has dreamed up on her Underwood.

Drawn on a larger scale and equipped with a more generous quota of brain-cells and pizazz, Clotilde might have been an infinitely more challenging character. In the first act she hints at "pro" qualifications, gives you "Little Foxes" hopes and then she fails to come through with the promise.

Our gripe is that there's more old-lace than arsenic in Clotilde's makeup and our suggestion that the proportions be reversed in the interests of a more powerful play. Back in 1905, when the action takes place and when another Roosevelt was giving his own party as well as the Democrats high blood pressure, the distaffers, for all their backseat driving and their homelike chores, had plenty on the ball and put the note of authority behind that last word. We'd like to see Clotilde point up that added track, and use the bean as well as the curves.

Sidney Blackmer, who is holding up Darryl Zanuck's $3,000,000 production, "The Life of Woodrow Wilson," (in which he plays Theodore Roosevelt, Lew Dockstader and Josephus Daniels... uh-huh, three characters, count 'em) to appear here as Miss Adler's co-star, is quietly effective as Clotilde's devoted doorman husband.

Their daughter, Anastasia, as played by Marilyn Erskine, is never a fully rounded character. Dominated by the mother she adores yet distrusts, she vacillates between love and loathing and never resolves her own feelings about her charming parent. For this failure, the playwright and director share responsibility.

THERE WAS NO ceiling on imagination or expense in "Lady in the Dark" production which starts its second week on Paramount and Fenway screens tomorrow. Ginger Rogers is the "lady in the dark" until psychiatry and love get her on the beam.

Tonight's Opening

"Allah Be Praised," the new Alfred Bloomingdale musical with Hollywood's Patricia Morrison, Mary Jane Walsh, John Haysradt, Joey Faye, Edward Rocker and Milada Mladova, opens tonight at the Shubert. Book and lyrics are by George Marion, Jr., who authored "Follow the Girls" and "Early to Bed." Don Walker and Baldwin Bergersen composed the music.

Job for Military Men

PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL of Great Britain and General Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, chief of British invasion forces, have concurred in recent statement that an Allied invasion of Western Europe is imminent and that it will be "a protracted struggle of unprecedented magnitude and complexity."

What Mr. Churchill says is apt to be politically significant rather than militarily authoritative.

But what General Montgomery says is said on the military authority of England's greatest military commander in the present war—the greatest, indeed, since Wellington.

The Allied world would be better informed about the war if Mr. Churchill let General Montgomery do the talking, and the Allied war will be more quickly won if military decisions are made by military men of the type of the Irish-descended General Montgomery.

Mr. Churchill's flare for oratory is undoubted, but his military reputation is not of the same high character.

In this war, he thought Italy was "the soft under-belly of the Axis," but it has proved the most difficult point of invasion.

In the last war, he was principally responsible for the ill-fated campaign on the Gallipoli peninsula which made the war cost Britain more than necessary and probably made it last longer than necessary.

WAR IS A JOB FOR MILITARY MEN—NOT FOR PROFESSIONAL POLITICIANS AND AMATEUR WARRIORS.

It is a job which General Montgomery is qualified to undertake with authority, and to talk about with authority.

He commanded and inspired the great drive from El Alamein to Tunisia, and is well called the Liberator of Libya.

He directed the campaign along the underside of Sicily, which contributed to the quick subjugation of Sicily and the collapse of the Mussolini regime.

GENERAL MONTGOMERY is recognized and respected as a great military commander by the American forces in England, and it augurs well for the success of the forthcoming invasion that he will have a high post of command in the operation.

The words uttered by General Montgomery on the eve of this vital military undertaking are sobering.

He indicates that while the invasion may come soon, the end of the war in Europe will not necessarily come soon.

He says that while the victorious peace "is not so far off," the collapse of Germany is not to be expected until 1945.

The Allied world, America included, well may hope that the decisions about the so-called second front will be made by military men and not by politicians.

COMPETENT MILITARY MEN WILL NOT BE HURRIED INTO A PREMATURE INVASION.

THEY MAY BE DEPENDED UPON TO WEIGH THE CHANCES OF SUCCESS AND THE LIVES OF THEIR MEN.

POLITICIANS ARE ALL TOO PRONE TO ATTEMPT THE ATTAINMENT OF A DESIRED PURPOSE WITHOUT WEIGHING ANY COST.

If the imminent but "protracted struggle of unprecedented magnitude and complexity" is undertaken when General Montgomery says it is right and the time for it is right, we may be assured it will be successful and will be consummated at minimum cost.

For he knows what he can do, and he can do what he says.

Help Mayor Clean Up Boston

BOSTON never had a civic enterprise more deserving of universal support than Mayor Tobin's current clean-up campaign.

In fact, he cannot succeed in his commendable efforts or reach his goal of a "spic and span city by Easter" unless every owner of residential and business property co-operates with him.

It is not enough to scour streets.

All the buildings in the area should be scoured, too.

The labor shortage and the wartime scarcities of construction materials may make this impossible in a literal sense.

But there is no regulation banning or restricting the use of shovels, rakes, pruning shears and brooms.

All Bostonians can use these tools and, judging from the present appearance of numerous properties, can accomplish miracles with them.

Thousands of young men from all parts of the world are passing through Boston today.

We should try to impress them favorably and spare ourselves the humiliation of hearing later on that they took away with them the memory of dirty and shabby dwellings.

A clean city is a healthy city and clean property is always more valuable and salable property.

Besides, the time spent in the open air raking lawns and cleaning windows will be time profitably spent.

It should improve the health of thousands who need the tonic of exertion and activity.

THIS IS QUOTED at the request of a proud mammy and pappy of Boston. If you like this poem please clip it now as it will not be quoted again . . . The first man to win Britain's top medal for gallantry in action, the Victoria Cross, was an Irishman. That was Lieut. Lucas of the Royal Navy . . . When asked "What is the most beautiful word in the English language?" Chauncey Depew immediately replied: "Home" . . . Etienne Marcel, a Frenchman, invented the income tax. There is a statue of him in Paris . . . Women workers in an English factory went on strike because the management demanded they leave their handbags in their lockers while working. Most of the trouble Englishmen have with women is because they don't try to understand them. To a woman her handbag is indispensable. Another thing the Englishman fails to keep in mind is that women, while they like to be dominated, do not care to be humiliated.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS:
Q—Isn't Cole Porter the best lyric writer for musical shows?
A—He is the best ever born in Peru, Ind. The best of all is Oscar Hammerstein, 2d . . . Q—Can your Horses & Women Department's research confirm the claim there are 86 different types of kisses?
A—Our H. & W. Department has not yet undertaken a research of this subject. All we have in our files is what Margaret Barton said: "There are kisses that flatter, kisses that soothe, kisses that thrill, kisses that amuse, kisses that pay homage and plain duty smacks" . . . Q—Do you deny that Greyhound was the greatest harness horse of all time?
A—I certainly do. The greatest of harness racers was Goldsmith Maid, which started to race at age of 9 and won 116 out of 133 races. At 14 this noble animal broke the mile record. At 18 she made four world records. At 19 she tied a world record.

PASSING BY: Donald Brian. It was in 1907 he first played the role of Prince Danilo in "The Merry Widow." Mr. Brian is now in a road company of "Abie's Irish Rose," playing the part of Patrick Murphy . . . Kaye Erickson. Exercise girl. She gallops thoroughbreds in training. Kaye says a mare named Queen Barge has winning possibilities. We shall check on this with interest . . . Ty Cobb. Second greatest ballplayer of all time. Now a tourist court owner in California. There are about 20,000 tourist courts in the United States and 75 per cent are filled to capacity with permanent guests . . . George Washington Hill. Tobacco magnate. Possibly the most successful man whose parents named him after the first President. Another successful man so named was George Washington Grant, once proprietor of Kid McCoy's Cafe in Manhattan and after that owner of the Boston Braves when that club won the world championship.

"It's not necessary to remove your hat in the presence of ladies!"

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: Apparently there is room for even greater improvement in the system of baby identification in some hospitals. Now some people in Chicago claim their baby was operated on by mistake . . . As to the "Hardy Scots," British M. P. Maj. Markham recently stated: "That the Scots are a hardy race is a fallacy. Their infant mortality is higher than any other part of the British Isles. Their expectation of life is four years less than the average Englishman. Their death rate is higher."

SIDELIGHTS: A London, Eng., barber offers his patrons the choice of 40 different styles of haircut. He has a catalogue showing pictures of each style of haircut . . . Am asked what the long-lived Hunzas of India eat. Understand their diet consists of raw vegetables, raw fruit, natural whole grain and moderate portions of fish and chicken. They do not cook food much. Roast beef medium would be too well done for them. Among the Hunzas, rheumatism, cancer and toothache are unknown . . . Harriet Beecher Stowe was a cute little trick. She was five feet tall and weighed 100 pounds. This is also the height and weight of Helen Hayes, who portrays Mrs. Stowe in the play, "Harriet."

ASIDES: A Bronx mother says her son, an incubator baby, weighed two and a half pounds at birth. He is now a sturdy young fellow weighing 150 pounds and is fighting for his country with the United States Navy . . . Pat Gatti of Allentown, Pa., has been made a member of the M. V. A. P. Club . . . Is much of the beer now being retailed cut as to alcoholic content? That is a query being asked. It is very difficult to tell the difference between so-called "near beer" and real beer. During the prohibition era, many speakies sold "near beer" to patrons who thought they were getting the real thing. This fact was brought out after raids on a number of Manhattan speakies.

PLEASE NOTE—Am fond of dogs but you can have my share of greyhound racing. The British are wild about the galloping puppies. In a recent race a half million dollars was bet on one dog. There never has been that money bet on one horse at any race track in the United States . . . Lady Montgomery, mother of Gail Montgomery of the British Eighth Army recently stated: "I am very proud of the fact that my son is an Irishman. The Irish are a great fighting race. All the great generals are Irish. Gort, Dill, Auchinleck, Alexander and Montgomery. To go farther back, Wellington and Kutcher were Irishmen" . . . Who was it said, "age is a state of mind"? Anyhow, an Oakland woman of 80 years of age recently went into business for herself and has had huge success. She runs a small general store. Her working hours are from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. She went into business because she did not want to be dependent on her relatives or an old age pension.

BRIEFLY: The U. S. Marine Corps welcomes cute little tricks into the feminine branch of its service. Young women of 5 feet in height and weighing as little as 95 pounds are eligible . . . Why do sportscribes insist upon using batting averages to judge the comparative ability of men such as Ty Cobb and Hans Wagner when the present-day players? Ty and Hans made their averages when there was no lively ball and there were spitball pitchers. That makes a lot of difference

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 29—John Farrow did not tiff with Paramount about making "Two Years Before the Mast" and he has not been on suspension.

But Johnny did refuse to take the assignment unless Buddy De Sylva gave his word he (Farrow) could make his pet story, "Mascot" for O'Sullivan, when the Dana classic is completed. I've never known a director to be more hepped on a story than John is over the O'Sullivan yarn.

It is an original by Myles Connolly, the M-G-M writer who moves to Para to write the screen play this summer. The story is unusual. It concerns two angels in Heaven who carry on a running argument about a guy on earth named O'Sullivan, who is continually getting in and out of hot water.

THE AFFABLE Bob Ritchie returns to New York the last of the week with the play, "Champagne for Everybody," in his pocket. Bob is a happy man because he has had his eye on the comedy since Lazo Vadney, Hungarian playwright, sold it to Leo McCarey and Casey Robinson. Leo and Casey planned to produce it in New York, and then Leo broke a leg. He feels grateful to Bob Ritchie, who agented him in his first job as an assistant at M-G-M, so when he couldn't do it himself he let Bob have it. It will be produced on Broadway with an all-movie cast.

CAPT. LUTHER DAVIS of the Army Air Corps, stationed in India, and Capt. John Cleveland of the Marines, collaborated on "A Little Bit of Heaven" through the mail, and with the help of Robert D. Andrews conceived a story that M-G-M bought. Before the purchase was made, however, Capt. Cleveland was killed. So he did not live to know that the love story he and his friend wrote had been purchased. Their screen play is a story of an Irish family living in Brooklyn in 1901. I hate to say that Gene Kelly is named, because it seems now every story bought is for Kelly. I hear, also, that Harry Cohn is going to do his best to get Gene for the Hal Skelly role in "Burlesque," opposite Rita Hayworth.

ALL THE MONEY Eli Culbertson made at playing and writing about bridge, he tells me, is being put into a system he has for world peace. He says, "We are winning the war, but losing the peace." His book, "Total Peace," and his lectures are all directed toward the women of America to help end wars for all time. He says it is the women who must do it. I asked if he plays gin rummy. He said, "Gin rummy is a game for idiots." What can I say to that?

IS SUMMER OPERA destined to become as popular as summer stock? The Cincinnati Opera Company, sponsoring a season of summer opera, has invited Irene Dunne, Hope Manning, Ilona Massey and Susanna Foster to appear singing any operatic role they prefer. Certainly seems like an opening to delight the hearts of the movie prima donnas who have frequently expressed to me their dreams of singing opera. Hope Manning has accepted and Irene Dunne and Susanna Foster will too, if they can arrange their picture commitments. Ilona is in South America and will give her answer when she returns.

CHATTER IN HOLLYWOOD: The friends of Marian Kohn (Mrs. Ralph) were surprised to hear she is in Las Vegas getting a divorce from Ralph Kohn, formerly a producer at Columbia. When she is free she will marry Joe Fields, the brilliant co-author of "My Sister Eileen," "Junior Miss" and dozens of other stage successes. Joe is also in Las Vegas, obtaining his freedom. He is a son of the late Lew Fields and a brother of Dorothy Fields.

BILL MARSHALL is really coming into his own. Not only has producer Andre Devan asked for him to play opposite Joan Bennett in "Merrily We Roll Along" at 20th, but Ginger Rogers put in a personal bid for Bill to play her hero in "Double Furlough" for David Selznick. "Double Furlough" gets started around April 10 and is about the time Marshall expects to wind up in "Belle of the Yukon." "Double Furlough" is the movie that brought on a technical suspension for Joan Fontaine when she begged to be excused.

THERE WAS a real reunion when Queenie Vassar, an old friend of Ethel Barrymore, walked on the set of "None But the Lonely Heart." Queenie plays a part and all of her scenes are with Ethel. Cary Grant, too, gave her a royal welcome. Joe Cawthorne, who was for so many years one of Broadway's favorite musical comedy stars, came along with Queenie on her first day of shooting. They recently celebrated 45 years of marriage, which is quite a spell.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: 'Tis said Linda Darnell is the latest 20th Century-Fox star to date the stork. She is Mrs. Pev Markey in private life; Johnny Weissmuller, who has been carrying the torch for his wife, Beryl, was with her at the Clover Club; Bill Powell escorted his real wife, Diane Lewis, and his movie wife, Myrna Loy, to Slapsy Maxie's to hear Joe E. Lewis, who is still packing them in; the Joe E. Browns at Arrowhead over the week-end. Joe has been pretty tired since his overseas jaunt and Katie took him there for a rest; it may be a trip to the altar for Marian Johnson (Nunnally's pretty daughter) and Gene Fowler, Jr. The kids are that serious; Tallulah Bankhead gets here July 15 for "The Catarina"; Ray Milland, back from an overseas jaunt, at the Trocadero with Mrs. M., who, with her gray hair, is one of the most stunning looking women in town; Bruce Odium, 19-year-old son of Floyd Odium, financial head of RKO and one of the richest men in New York, was secretly wed to Marla Erlanger at Santa Ana about a week ago. My Day

By Eleanor Roosevelt

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala, Tuesday—On our last full day in Panama we left the house at 8 a. m. We visited the Marines, saw the Naval Hospital and attended a demonstration at the fire fighting school. We went from there to another naval installation on a nearby island. This gave me my first chance to travel on a PT boat.

ON THE ISLAND we visited the Naval Hospital, which had no patients, thus showing what a healthy spot this place happens to be. We had lunch in the enlisted men's mess.

After returning to the mainland, we visited a school run primarily for Puerto Rican inductees, although many officers and men from the continental troops attend. Then we went to Gen. Bret's residence for a press conference. Later, we went for a short drive around the city and visited the fine Santomas Hospital. I had a glimpse of the Church of San Jose with its wonderful golden altar which was brought from Brazil many years ago.

We had a little time to sit and enlisted men's messes, and at 6 o'clock attended an informal reception given by the President and Madame De La Guardia at the Presidencia. In the evening we went to three USO clubs.

We had a little time to sit and talk to our hosts, and I was glad to have this opportunity. I did want a chance to thank them both for their very generous hospitality, which included calling us at 5:30 and seeing us off at 6:45 in the morning.

MATCHING PRINT GLOVES is one of the season's newest high-style notes... and a pretty one it is... carrying out the dress motif. Flower print in navy and white on a black background... with a draped neckline that forms the sleeves... and falls softly in front... is a Mainbocher dress-maker feature for spring. This stunning model wears a cockade topknot of navy grosgrain ribbon... to complement the matching dress and gloves.—R. M.

Orange Invades East Colors

By BETTINA BEDWELL

IT ISN'T the glow of the California sunset that makes the fashion world excited when they face West. It is the new daytime color that is coming from that direction and seeping all over the East.

This color is orange, and is a shade that is becoming high style for coats and suits to wear all spring. Here in the East the manufacturers are now making ensembles in this beautiful color, so they are going to be around a lot.

Miss Dulin has sketched a coat and suit in orange wool, worn at Palm Springs by Lynn Bari, film star, who was honeymooning there. The coat ties at the waistline, as some smart new coats do. The suit has a box jacket with a panel back. It is double breasted and worn with a green and brown scarf in the neckline.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

IF WE GALS EXPECT our face to blossom forth as a thing of true beauty... we must do as the gardener does... cultivate our complexions with tender, loving, devoted care... as the gardener gives his cherished plot of ground where he visions a thrilling crop of eye-filling profusion.

No garden thrives on weeds and survives... And, neither can a skin that is sometimes a hungry skin... so hungry that it swallows oodles and oodles of dust and soot and grime through its starved pores... until it bulges with weedy blackheads and eruptions or one kind or another... or because so dry that it cracks at the slightest touch.

A gal's face is like a garden... beautiful when radiant and colorful and fresh-clean and glowing... but a terrible "wilderess" of facial chaos when it lacks the gardenia-smoothness and softness of that gorgeous blossom.

THOROUGHLY CLEANSES

If you have... figuratively speaking... a weedy face... it's bedtime for your skin... for it needs and craves attention. When you detect your skin gushing oil... or so dry that it flakes and sheds... it is high time you gave your complexion something beneficial to eat.

But a something that is so soothing and efficient that it leaves your skin truly immaculate and petal-smooth... NOT DRY... a something that will thoroughly cleanse your pores and inoculate them with a dish unpalatable to skin eruptions. Some of us have that kind of a skin... a hungry skin which magnetizes and draws the dust into our pores. I don't need to tell you that such a condition can't be covered over without further aggravation.

What you need is a wonder-working cleansing meal... a formula of finest almonds compounded with rich cereals to help keep the pores baby clean and nourished.

Remember when dear, old grandma used almond meal on her hands to keep them petal-smooth and dove-like soft? We could well take a leaf from "nanny's" beauty book... we gals who long so anxiously for a beautiful skin... but do nothing but talk about achieving it.

IT IS INEXPENSIVE

Mixed into a soft, absorbent paste... this cleansing meal... product of a house specializing in de luxe preparations... keeps the oil glands under control and refines the texture of the skin. When used as a pack... and left on the face from five to 15 minutes... its results are magic-like in the refreshed, cleansed and softened texture of the skin.

A powerful way to use this "meal" wash is to make a thin paste of the dry and highly beneficial preparation with tepid water... and with your fingertips as pads... rotate the smooth paste gently over the face. Such a treatment two or three times a week will help you achieve practically a new face... a complexion of unbelievable cleanliness and wholesomeness.

If cream nor soap agrees with your skin... this is your providential answer. It is so inexpensive you'll want to stock up on it... to tidy your face over a future rainy day.

For the name of this wonder-working skin refiner, phone the Beauty Dept., Liberty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. There is a personal representative of this line in town who will be glad to discuss your facial problems personally with you.

Dainty Vegetable Dishes

By MARTHA LEE

RATION POINTS are still off canned green beans, and they have been reduced on canned tomatoes. So take advantage of the situation and serve the family with a dish made from a combination of the two vegetables.

GREEN BEANS WITH TOMATOES

1 No. 2 can cut green beans
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
4 strips bacon 4 tsp. flour
1 tsp. butter or margarine
1 cup milk 2 tsp. sugar
2 tsp. minced onion
Salt and pepper
½ cup buttered crumbs

Drain the liquid from the beans and tomatoes into a saucepan and reduce, by boiling, to 1 cup. Cut the bacon into ½-inch strips and fry until crisp; remove from the heat and stir the flour and butter into the bacon fat. Add the milk and the liquid from the vegetables, and cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Add the onion, sugar, and season with salt and pepper to suit the taste. Combine with the beans, tomatoes and bacon. Place in a shallow, buttered baking dish and top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven, 375 deg. F., about 30 minutes. Makes 10 servings.

The butter or margarine may be omitted, but it does add extra flavor to the finished product. The same thing may be said for the small amount of onion used in the recipe. It may be omitted, but the mixture tastes better if it is used.

SCALLOPED TOMATOES

½ cup minced onion
4 tsp. melted butter or margarine
2½ cups soft bread crumbs
½ tsp. granulated sugar
1 tsp. salt ½ tsp. pepper
1 No. 2½ can tomatoes (3½ cups) Dash cayenne pepper

Saute the onion in 3 tsp. of the butter or margarine until onion is tender. Combine onion, 2 cups of the bread crumbs, the sugar, salt, pepper and cayenne. Arrange a layer of tomatoes in the bottom of a greased or oiled 1½ quart casserole. Top with a layer of the bread crumb mixture. Continue until all is used, having a layer of tomatoes on top. Combine remaining ½ cup bread crumbs with the remaining 1 tsp. butter and sprinkle over the top of the casserole. Bake in a moderately hot oven of 375 deg. F. for 45 minutes. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

SPANISH STRING BEANS

2 medium onions, sliced
1 No. 2 can tomatoes (2½ cups)
1 bay leaf 1 tsp. salt
1 diced seeded green pepper
2 tsp. sugar 2 whole cloves
2 tsp. melted butter or margarine 2 tsp. flour

1 No. 2½ can cut string beans Combine the onions, tomatoes, bay leaf, salt, green pepper, cloves and sugar. Simmer for 15 minutes; remove bay leaf and cloves. Blend the butter and flour, and add to the tomato mixture. Cook until smooth and thickened, while stirring. Add the beans and heat well. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

ITALIAN RICE

Saute 1 cup washed, uncooked rice in 1-3 cup butter or margarine about 5 minutes, or until delicately browned, stirring constantly. Add 2 cups canned tomatoes, season to taste with salt, pepper and onion salt; boil for about 5 minutes. Add 2 cups water or stock as necessary, cover and simmer 30 minutes, or until liquid has been almost entirely absorbed by rice. Serve with mild-flavored meat or fish. Makes 6 servings.

It may be a danger sign WHEN YOU CAN'T GET YOUR CHILD TO EAT!

Does your youngster just "pick" at his food? Does he push it away before it's half eaten? Then be on your guard, Mother! Loss of appetite, when accompanied by paleness, weakness and lack of pep, is often a sign that the blood is low in iron! In such cases, a good iron tonic like Pepto-Mangan can be very helpful. Pepto-Mangan replenishes whatever iron the blood may be lacking—helps to give it that rich redness so essential for strength and pep, hearty appetite and rosy cheeks. Many doctors recommend Pepto-Mangan for run-down and growing children whose blood is deficient in iron. Ask for—

Smart Set Simmons Senior Weds

By BETTY ALDEN
A HARVARD-SIMMONS ROMANCE is revealed in announcement from Mrs. Walter Coleman of Cambridge of the marriage of her daughter, Marjorie, to Lieut. Warren S. Berg, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Berg of Cambridge. The bride is a member of the senior class at Simmons and her bridegroom, a Harvard '43 graduate, is now stationed in Cambridge where the couple will make their home.

They were married at candle-light ceremony Saturday evening in the Pilgrim Congregational Church. A reception was held at the home of Mrs. Coleman. With her gown of ivory satin Marjorie wore a long tulle veil caught to a coronet of orange blossoms and carried gardenias and stephanotis.

Her sister, Priscilla, was maid of honor, and a younger sister, Cynthia, junior bridesmaid. They wore aqua tulle and chiffon with spring flowers. The bridesmaids, in yellow tulle with spring flowers, were Cynthia Childs of Medford, Phyllis Crocker and Trudy Mains of Cambridge, and Mrs. William Lionett of Washington. Norman P. Berg was best man and the ushers were Walter Colburn, John Burns, Ensign Walter Wilcox and Lieut. Cosmos Brocato.

ONE OF THE LARGEST affairs of the season is the Women's Republican Club dinner tomorrow for Congressman Joseph W. Martin, Jr., which will be broadcast over a nation-wide hook-up. Mrs. William Endicott is chairman and among the distinguished head table guests she will introduce are Gov. and Mrs. Saltonstall, Charles Francis Adams, Mrs. Charles P. Howard, Mrs. Alfred B. Williams, Mrs. Addison B. Green, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Rowell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Allen and Mrs. Raymond Wheeler.

Also attending will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Bird, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ames, Mrs. Edward C. Brown, Mrs. Charles C. Sprague, Mrs. Ralph Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mason, Mrs. Arthur W. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hamlin, Mrs. Stanwood G. Wellington and many others.

TRAVEL DEPT. Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett Harwood of Beacon st. and sub-deb Sabra are having a fling at Hot Springs where they have been joined by Mrs. Harwood's daughter, Mrs. Eliot Codman of Washington. They'll be back for the Easter Parade and Opera as well as the United Nations benefit concert on April 23 for which Mrs. Harwood is a committee member.

Mr. and Mrs. George M. Burnett of Southboro are back home after a reunion with their soldier son Robert in Georgia. Their daughter, Mrs. John Callaway, who has come home with her baby while John is in the Coast Guard, accompanied them on the southern jaunt.

MR. AND MRS. RAYMOND STUART, Mr. and Mrs. Alan White, Mr. and Mrs. John Francis and Mrs. Edward C. Donnelly, are among the patrons for the Sunday evening concert in Jordan Hall by the Trapp Family. Belarmine Academy sponsors the performance for the benefit of Jesuit Missions. Additional patrons include Dr. and Mrs. Edward Kichham, Mr. and Mrs. Porter Webber, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cahill and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Fitzgerald, Jr.

Victory Gardeners Order Seed

By FOSTER H. WEISS

(Head of Market Gardening Department, Norfolk County Agricultural School, and Director of the Record-American-Sunday Advertiser Demonstration Garden on Boston Common.)

Foresighted Victory Gardeners not only are placing orders for seed now, but also are making arrangements for obtaining fertilizer, which is essential for successful plant growth.

AMOUNT NEEDED
Manure should be purchased now so that it can be spread on the land and spaded or plowed under at the time the soil is being prepared. This is the reason for suggesting the purchase of manure, now so that it can be delivered before you have the land plowed.

The following amount should be ordered for 1000 square feet: Poultry manure, 12 bushels; horse or cow manure, 25 bushels.

Get the measurements of your garden before you order manure. Do not order more than you can use unless you have room to make a compost pile and rot it down for later use, as manure loses considerable value by leaching.

Lime, to sweeten sour soils, may be necessary on some gardens. Vegetables prefer a slightly acid soil and many New England soils need lime.

TEST FOR ACID

If you are buying lime, it is well to have your soil tested for acidity first. This can be done by your local extension service or your town garden committee. Because of transportation difficulties, lime may be hard to get this year, but if you need lime the best kind to use is ground limestone.

Broadway

By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, March 29—Manhattan Gitter: Picturesque Dorothy Parker bursting into tears at 21 during luncheon with John O'Hara... Barbara Bannister checking mink-trimmed galoshes at Leon & Eddie's... Kay Francis sending George of the Colony to get a tissue from her coat pocket to wipe her famous nose... Guy Kibbee birthday partying his missus at Monte Carlo... "Prince" Mike Romanoff dashing out of Armando's to buy Ann Francine a bottle of scent... Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker dodging a puddle on 47th st... Joan Davis and Jack Haley, celebrity-faces among the bar-sitters at Leone's... June Clyde and Louise Albritton at Schrafft's, making up for the calories they missed overseas... Margaret Sullivan, in royal purple, examining tidbits at Bonwit's.

TIMES SQUARE NOTES: The staff at Memorial Hospital would have you believe that Myrna Loy is a patient there, although the wire services have announced her arrival in Hollywood... William Wyler's Army documentary film, "Memphis Belle" (the story of a bomber's mission to Germany), will knock the town on its ear... Besides singing and gagging, Marlene Dietrich will play a musical saw in her USO overseas act... Frank Parker, who gave his notice in "Follow the Girls," and then took it back, tells intimates he still may quit the hit before it comes to Broadway... A bill is being drawn up in Washington to honor Irving Berlin with the Congressional Medal of Honor... Joyce Mathews Berle has bowed out of the "Allah Be Praised" cast... Choo Choo Johnson looks sooo different because she's wearing a new flat-top hairdo. (It must have required two small, strong boys to take down that gargantuan pompadour!)

FABLE FROM FIFTIES: No subject holds more fascination for the theatrical gentry than that of "lucky breaks" and the way people get them. The other night at the Stork Club Wynn Rocamora, the actors' agent, and Vincent Lopez, the maestro-numerologist, were indulging in small talk about just that sort of thing. Would Betty Hutton ever have found a springboard to stardom if the Lopez band hadn't conducted an amateur contest in her home town?

... If Rudy Vallee had never crossed Alice Faye's path would the story of her life be very different now?

Then Rocamora told a story. He was sitting in his Hollywood office one afternoon, he said, and his secretary came in to announce that a young lady was in the reception room asking to see him. It sounded like the kind of thing that gets a polite brushoff in hundreds of Hollywood offices thousands of times a day; she had no appointment, she was a complete stranger to Rocamora, she said she was a singer but she'd never worked professionally—she was, indeed, employed as a comptometer operator at the North American Aircraft Co.

Rocamora looked at the young applicant's name and startled his secretary into speechlessness by saying he'd see the girl immediately.

Two months later he arranged her debut as soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

Before the applause for her first appearance had died down he had declined several impressive screen and radio offers for his new client. Her next scheduled step is an audition for the Metropolitan Opera.

Rocamora never would have seen the unknown little comptometer operator that day, he admits, if it hadn't been for one thing: her name happened to be Dorothy Lundgren. That fits an old Rocamora superstition. He has managed Dorothy Lamour for years. His most promising junior client is Diana Lynn, who is expected to reach stardom before she's 18.

And Rocamora, who knows the ropes and all the answers, couldn't resist meeting Dorothy Lundgren because the sound of her name struck a responsive chord in his only, but overwhelming superstition: the initials "D. L." He limbered up, they mean Darned Lucky to him!

Star Shine

By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, March 29—It doesn't matter who your favorite movie critic is, you can't ignore those exhibitors who write their own reviews in the Motion Picture Herald. After a while they'll become your favorites, also, for they don't pull their punches and are humorous, sometimes without intent.

Exhibitor F. A. Falle of Ont., Canada, writes about "Higher and Higher": "The airmen were out in force; they feigned swoons, clapped and tried to give the impression that they were really enjoying it. The airmen were silent. Generally, the show was not so good as expected."

Concerning "Whistling In Brooklyn," Exhibitor A. E. Hancock of Columbia City, Ind., says: "Of course, the public will come if there is a chance that they will get some laughs, which is what they expect of this supposed comedian. He clowns but my audience did not seem to think it was funny, by the silence that was apparent when the laughs were supposed to come; that is the reception it received. He has no original line, and frankly, I don't see how he gets by, and neither do most of my audience, from the chill that it got."

THESE EXHIBITORS can really be more bitter than the average movie critic. Here is Exhibitor S. Stone of Sask., Canada, writing about "Hello, Frisco, Hello": "This is a grand musical in technicolor. I don't know why they go for 20th Century-Fox musicals, as they all have the same story." Okay. Then get ready to play "Hello, Coney Island, Hello." It will do big business, also.

The familiar comments about the war pictures still continue. The exhibitors protest, play the good war films and are surprised that they do big business. Exhibitor E. D. Chessman of Macclenny, Fla., joins the chorus in writing about "Bataan": "Maybe my patrons are tired of war pictures, but this didn't prove it. This is a good picture which was well liked by my customers."

Exhibitor Lee Guthrie of Wheeler, Tex., writes about "Guadalcanal Diary": "This is by far the best liked picture that we have had for the past 12 months, and this is due to my customers. The picture never attempts to be big or spectacular. It moves along with a naturalness that was, no doubt, comparable to what happened on Guadalcanal."

Concerning "Paris After Dark," Exhibitor Charles A. Brooks of Marshfield, Mo., has this to say: "Here is a good show that failed... due to the title. Anything that even leads the public to think a picture is foreign-made keeps them away."

M. W. HUGHES of Astoria, Ill., was very pleased with "This Is the Army": "Get it early and advance your price a little, and everyone will congratulate you... How do you like that? People will like you more if you charge them more to see the picture."

A bitter critic is Exhibitor Cleo Manry of Buena Vista, Ga., when she writes about "The Good Fellow": "I hear there is a shortage of film; why Paramount wasted this good film is more than I can understand. Don't play it if you can help it..."

George Holland

Boston After Dark

WE CAN ADD the name of B. G. (Buddy) De Sylva to the list of former Broadwayites who have refrained, upon becoming tycoons of the movie industry, from "going Hollywood"... Buddy is in charge of production at Paramount... His performance in that job is the typically distinguished De Sylva handiwork which made him one of the a n o i n t e d of the musical comedy theater for nearly 20 years.

Starting as a banjo and guitar player, De Sylva came East from California in time to write a hit-song for Al Johnson... He was soon turning out ten songs a year, mostly good, and then he began collaborating on musical comedy scores... "Good News" and "Follow Thru" enjoyed his talents, but in addition to collaborating on the music, Mr. De Sylva, by this time, was co-authoring the librettos.

BUDDY STOOD BROADWAY on its cocked ear when he turned his hand to musical comedy production... He produced three solid hits in a row, and at one time all three were contemporaries on Broadway... They were "Louisiana Purchase," "Du Barry Was a Lady" and "Panama Hat-tie"... Hollywood staked a claim on him then, as was to be expected... The De Sylva man is now electrifying the movie business... Even in these booming times of motion picture production, a $3,000,000 picture is a daring venture.

PARAMOUNT, under De Sylva rule, has produced two (2) $3,000,000 pictures in the same season... One is "Lady in the Dark," already released... And the other is "Frenchman's Creek," soon to be pre-viewed... But the quondam Broadwayite had insurance against this huge investment... It was a picture called "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek," a trifle by Preston Sturges which is so funny that audiences are missing part of the dialogue because they are defeated by their own laughter at previous lines in the film... Plus the new Bing Crosby picture, "Going My Way," a human and endearing piece of celluloid, and a new Bing Crosby-Bob Hope picture, "The Road to Utopia," it is a tremendous season for De Sylva and Paramount... And to make things even happier on the happy Paramount lot, Alan Ladd has been released from service on a medical discharge.

One amazing item of the current scene at the De Sylva film factory is that a hoydenish, nervous, jittery and jitter-buggy young blonde who was billed as "Jitter Bug No. 1" at the Ritz Roof just four years ago is now in the position of Co-star No. 1 (with Claudette Colbert) on the Paramount lot.

WITH LORD MOUNTBATTEN prominent in the news by virtue of his position as Chief Commander of the India-Burma operations of the Allies, Sophie Tucker is finding startled audiences for her story about His Lordship and Lady (Edwina Ashley) Mountbatten... The titled pair came to New York about 15 years ago, and when news of their coming traveled the society grapevine, the mansions of the Four Hundred were placed at their disposal—in a shower of invitations.

MEANTIME, Sophie had been regaling her friends with naive stories that her friends, the Mountbattens, whom she had met in London, were making a trip to New York solely for the purpose of enjoying a week of Harlem nightclubbing... The society columns were filled, at that time, with play-by-play descriptions of the Mountbattens on shipboard, and the parties scheduled for their entertainment when they arrived, And Sophie was getting "the bird"... It became so embarrassing that "the last of the red-hot mamas" was speculating on whether "her friends, Lord and Lady Mountbatten," had been spoofing her slightly.

BUT THE MUCH-SOUGHT COUPLE were on the phone to Sophie's home within an hour of their arrival... Sophie answered their question about a hotel by recommending a Broadway hotel in the fifties which had won some very bad publicity on account of a fatal shooting... and that's where all three—Sophie, and Lord and Lady Mountbatten, stayed for a full week... And while New York society was seeking the titled visitors, they were busy, with Sophie, enjoying Harlem's nightlife.

22 Boston Boxing Refuses To Close Up for Racing

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, WED., MARCH 29, 1944

By JACK CONWAY

BOSTON BOXING clubs do not intend to fold up when the horse racing season in New England opens on April 12. They will also laugh off the dog racing offerings at Wonderland Park, Dighton and Raynham.

The new policy was decided upon by Matchmaker Rip Valenti of the Goodwin A. C. and it is expected that the Jack O'Brien-Eddie Mack combination at the Callahan A. C. will adopt it.

"The last three boxing shows in Boston, Terranova-Bartolo, LaMotta-Welsh and Armstrong-Zanelli would have drawn $45,000.

"In view of this boxing boom, there is not any reason why we should worry about the approach of the racing season. I think horse racing helps boxing, and some of them will take in a boxing show if offered a suitable attraction.

"When the dogs race at Wonderland Park, the attendance will average between 10,000 and 12,000 people. Of course some of these people are boxing fans, but I believe that even if the same number of fans continue to go to see the greyhound races we shall still have plenty of customers.

"Boxing goes well when clubs are able to secure suitable attractions. The return bout between Terranova and Bartolo, which does not take place until April 26, already has an advance sale of $10,000.

"The bout between Willie Roach of New York and Larry Bolvin of Providence at the Arena on next Monday night is also attracting considerable interest. It should be a good fight.

"I think Armstrong is the wonder fighter of all. I have concluded that when he was forced into retirement it was because he boxed too frequently. He had used up his vitality. On both occasions when he retired he regained his old pep and came back in the best of form.

"Armstrong beat Zanelli because he fought one of his best battles, not because Zanelli didn't do well."

Referee Johnny Martin told me he gave Zanelli three rounds, the first, second and 10th.

Szabo Top Grappler
SANDOR SZABO, who wrestles the Golden Terror in a title mat bout at the Garden tonight, is the best wrestler in the country with the possible exception of Steve Casey. The latter has always shown particularly well in Boston.

Leafs, Wings Washed Out

By The Associated Press

You can just about count the Toronto Maple Leafs and the Detroit Red Wings out of final playoffs.

They lost last night to the Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Blackhawks, respectively, and now trail by three games to one in the best four-of-seven games series. Montreal whipped the Leafs, 4 to 1, while the Hawks rode roughshod over the Wings, 7 to 1.

A crowd of 13,770 at Toronto saw the Leafs go down for the third time in a row before the National League champions. The Canadiens took a 2-0 lead in the second period on goals by Jerry Heffernan and Hector Blake. In the third period, after a goal by Toronto's Ted Kennedy, Murphy

Magic Coin Picks Szabo as Winner

Jack Conway's famous Magic Coin, which has scored a sensational run of wins, is picking Sandor Szabo to defeat the Golden Terror in their title mat bout at the Garden tonight. If the Magic Coin is right, and it has been in all of its choices this year, the identity of the Golden Terror will be revealed.

Szabo and Casey each have the necessary wrestling ability to win from the Golden Terror. In figuring out who will win the Szabo-Golden Terror bout at the Garden tonight, I am reminded of Tony Galento's statement when he picked Armstrong to beat Zanelli.

"I know Armstrong," said Galento, "and I am not much concerned about Zanelli's record. I have never seen Zanelli, but I don't think he has enough class to win from Hammering Henry."

I know Szabo, while the Golden Terror is still a mystery behind his mask. I have seen the Golden Terror in action. He is a big, powerful fellow, but lacks the speed and finish necessary to beat a headliner like Szabo.

Tony Galento will referee the title bout, and he will not permit the Golden Terror to break all of the rules of wrestling.

As national and Canadian heavyweight champion, Szabo has much at stake tonight. He has much higher standing for title recognition than has the Golden Terror, with the duration championship he gained by defeating The Angel.

It was Szabo who insisted that a first class referee be on the job tonight. All he needs is a fair deal to enable him to rip the mask from the Golden Terror. The latter should not be a mystery after tonight's tussle. Class tells in wrestling, boxing and in horse racing as well as in other sports.

The Golden Terror has a big following, but most of them would like to see him unmasked. The interest in the identity of the Golden Terror, Szabo's acknowledged ability, and the fact Tony Galento and Jack Sharkey will referee will result in a large crowd when Paul Bowser moves wrestling back into the Garden after an absence from that building of four years.

Horses at Gansett

BILLY AMES tells me the horses are arriving at Narragansett Park, and that there will be few empty barns when racing opens on April 12. Applications have been approved for 1200 and they will fill every available stall at the Rhode Island track before the meeting is many days old.

Leafs, Wings Washed Out

Chamberlain sewed up the game for the Canadiens by rapping home two goals, one on a long shot with the Toronto goalie pulled down the ice to act as a forward.

A turnout of 17,533 at Chicago saw the Hawks' No. 1 line of Doug Bentley, Billy Mosienko and Clint Smith pour on too much speed for Detroit. Bentley got three of the Chicago goals, two unassisted. Smith got two and Mosienko, who suffered a bruised shoulder, one. Carl Liscombe accounted for Detroit's lone goal on a shot that temporarily tied the score at 1-1.

SZABO, TERROR 45 to Race EVEN BET IN GARDEN BOUT

Clashing for the world's championship and the diamond studded belt of the American Wrestling Ass'n, Sandor Szabo, newly crowned Canadian titlist, and the Golden Terror, 379-pound grappler, will be even choices to take over the honors when they step into the Boston Garden ring tonight in the main bout of Promoter Paul Bowser's weekly program.

Adding spice to a peppery card, Two Ton Tony Galento, one of the most colorful heavyweight fighters of recent years, will be referee of this feature bout, two out of three falls.

Former world's heavyweight champion, Jack Sharkey, will referee the semi-final between Jack Clayburne, Roxbury, and John Katana, Toronto grappler who has gone undefeated here this season.

Ex-Maine Coach Dies

WATERLOO, N. Y., March 29 (AP)—J. Evan Mills, 57, former track and football coach at the University of Maine, and later track coach at Olivet College in Michigan, died here. He went to Maine after graduation in 1909 from Cornell University, where he was a track star. He helped lay out the recreation, athletic and playground facilities at Champaigne and Urbana, Ill., and for a time was associated with Hull House in Chicago.

Tune-ups for the Patriot's Day B. A. A. Marathon—over 10-mile routes—will be occupying the minds and stop watches of the track bugs for the next two weeks with the annual plods of the William F. Reddish A. A. and the Cathedral Club providing the opportunities.

The Reddish affair Saturday afternoon will be the 36th over the Rosindale-West Roxbury route while the Cathedral will be the 34th test over the South End-South Boston streets, April 8.

This week's run will be conspicuous for its lack of an outstanding name. Johnnie Kelley, although he's listed to start, will probably be tied up with his moving. Tarzan Brown apparently has retired from active competition. Gerard Cote will remain in Canada until shortly before the B. A. A. Joe Smith hung up his shoes last year. Lloyd Evans may not be able to leave his aircraft factory job in Canada. Johnnie Semple, Navy C. O. P., will be confined to Samson, N. Y. base. Clayton Farrar, North Medford winner, may not get a leave.

NEW DEAL IN CHAMPS

So maybe we'll have a new deal in Marathon champions as the experts attempt to pick out a dark horse from these twin runs for the big event of the season—the B. A. A.

Still, Gerard Nolan, director of the Reddish run, expects a starting field of at least 45 in the drive to keep the affair "alive." He has signed 34 runners to date with the possibility of another dozen or so before starting time at 2:30.

Included in the list will be Fred McGlone, Norfolk YMA, fourth in the North Medford; Lloyd Birstow, U. S. Navy; Eddie Shepard, Maine, winner last season; Tony Medeiros, North Medford Club; Johnnie Ingemi, Salem; Fred Brown, North Medford Club, and Louis Young, North Medford Club. Everything points to a battle among this group for top honors in this handicap run.

In the old days, infielders could play on either side of the diamond. Their chief interest was to play; that position, were of minor consideration. But, during the past decade, "Specialists," with complexes which influence them into believing they can play only one position, have come into the game.

Just as soon as he realized how drastically the draft was reducing baseball's manpower, Manager Bob Coleman began to formulate plans which would have some of his players "doubling in brass."

On the Braves roster, Phil Masi and Kirby Farrell are listed as catcher and first baseman, respectively. But, Masi can play second base and the outfield, while Farrell is capable of giving a good account of himself on the mound as well as in the outer garden.

WILL CHASE FUNGOS

When the weather permits the squad to quit the cage, Manager Coleman will have Masi and Farrell chase fungos with the outfielders. Masi is exceptionally fast, one of the fastest men on the squad, in fact. He has played the outfield for the Braves in National League competition. He will be used when opponents have left hand pitchers on the hill and his advent into the line-up will not weaken the club either defensively or offensively.

Farrell is available to go to the mound or the outfield because, "Buck" Elchison, due to his power with the bat, will be the regular first sacker. Farrell came up from Erie, Pa., as a pitcher. He fooled around first and worked out in the outfield before he took over the initial sack job, when Johnny McCarthy broke his leg during the second western trip last season.

VERSATILE INFELDERS

Connie Ryan has had experience at second and third base, Mike Sandlock can play short and third, and could, in a pinch get by as a second baseman, while Steve Shomo and Mike Sabena cannot be rated as "specialists," for the former came into camp as a third sacker and is now battling Ben Geraghty for second, while Sabena played short for Hagerstown last season and is now candidate for the hot corner berth.

Ben Cardoni, Bill Marshall, Carl Lindquist and Vin Shupe worked on the mound yesterday afternoon, while Hal Schacker, Al Javery and Jim Tobin hurled during the morning.

Nate Andrews is staging a fine come back. He runs many laps of the indoor track daily almost without making his two circuits of the "Upper" field. Between his leg condition work outs, Andrews warms up and is beginning to round into his 1943 form. He is many pounds lighter than a year ago and if the Army doesn't get him should be a 20-game winner.
